

Preparing for Life and Career © 2013

Chapter 5: Getting Ready to Manage

Copyright Goodheart-Willcox Co., Inc.

Across

- Resources that are found locally, such as schools, libraries, stores, theaters, parks, zoos, and museums.
- Needs related to your mind and feelings, including the needs to feel safe, secure, loved, and accepted.
- Resources that come from within yourself or from relationships with other people. Also called personal resources.
- To judge the value of something.
- The beliefs, feelings, and experiences you consider important.
- Options.
- A choice.
- What is most important to you.
- The way you measure what you have done.

Down

- Using your resources to reach a goal.
- Anything that can help you reach a goal.
- Your most basic needs, including food, water, clothing, shelter, and sleep.
- Results of your decisions.
- Items you would like to have, but do not need.
- A description of a person's good qualities, which often include moral strength, honesty, and fairness.
- The strong beliefs about what is morally right and wrong that guide your behavior.
- What you endeavor to do or achieve.
- Basic items you must have to live.